

August 29, 2003

Dear Mr. Fay:

The Regent University Library in Virginia Beach, Virginia is creating an information kiosk that will feature a virtual tour of artwork owned and displayed in the University Library's Special Collections Department. The Library is pleased to own And The Word Became Flesh, a collection of painting by Leana Fay and is asking your permission to include a digital photograph of each print in the information kiosk virtual tour and in future revisions thereof including nonexclusive world rights in all languages. This tour is accessible by the Internet.

These rights will in no way restrict republication of your material in any other form by you or others authorized by you. Should you not control these rights in their entirety would you kindly let me know to whom else I must write. Unless you indicate otherwise, I will use the following copyright notice and credit line:

© This image is protected by Copyright law. (Title 17 U.S. Code.)
Image used with permission from Peter Fay

I would greatly appreciate your consent to this request. Thank you in advance for your consideration. Should you have any questions please call or e-mail. For your convenience a release form is provided below.

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Rob J. Sivigny".

Robert J. Sivigny
Associate Librarian, Special Collections
Regent University Library
1000 Regent University Drive
Virginia Beach, Virginia 23464-9800
<http://www.regent.edu>
robessiv@regent.edu
757.226.4184

I (We) grant permission for the use requested above.

A stylized logo for Regent University, featuring a circular design with the words "REGENT UNIVERSITY" inside.

(Specify name and title, if any)

11.2.2003

Date

